

POLEBRIDGE PRESS

Order Information

From the U.S. or countries not represented by distributors, order online, email, call, or mail or fax the order form (facing) to:

Polebridge Press
Willamette University,
900 State Street
Salem, Oregon 97301
503-375-5323
orders@westarinstitute.org
www.polebridgepress.com

Please direct orders from Africa, Australia, Canada, Europe, the Middle East, New Zealand, and the U.K. to the distributors in those countries:

Canada

Scholarly Book Services
www.sbookscan.com
1-800-847-9736
1-800-220-9895 fax

Australia & New Zealand

Brumby Sunstate
www.brumbysunstate.com.au
orders@brumbysunstate.com.au
+61 7 3255 5552

The UK, Europe, Africa and the Middle East

Eurospan
www.eurospanbookstore.com/polebridge
44 (0)1767 604972
44 (0)1767 601640 fax

E-Books on Kindle, Nook, and iBooks

E-books are books that can be read on a computer or handheld device. They come in different formats depending on the device. Polebridge currently offers e-books in Kindle, Nook, and iBooks formats. View available books at:

westarinstitute.org/store-home/e-books/

Institutional E-Book Access

Offer Polebridge e-books to patrons through EBSCO! All e-book titles are available with unlimited user access, based on a monthly subscription to the EBSCO database.

Learn more at www.ebscohost.com/ebooks

Forum

Westar's academic journal

Clayton N. Jefford and Nina E. Livesey, editors

Two electronic issues annually

Forum, a biannual journal first published in 1985, contains current research in biblical and cognate studies. This electronic journal features articles on the historical Jesus, Christian origins, and related fields. It also publishes the scholarship emerging from Westar Institute, including many of the papers that inform the deliberations and conclusions of the Seminars. Recommended for scholars and advanced students of religion, Forum appears twice a year, in April and October.

Individual and institutional subscriptions available. Learn more at:

www.westarinstitute.org/resources/forum/